Three Townships
Approve Funds
For Sewer Study

Supplemental appropriations to finance a feasibility study of a proposed integrated sanitary sewer system that would serve all four townships of the Quad-City area have been approved today by electors of three of the participating townships.

In each instance, township electors convened in special meetings approved additional appropriations of $8000 as their respective shares of a projected $23,000 fund necessary to conduct the engineering survey and feasibility study.

Appropriations of $8000 each were voted by the electors in a meeting at Nameki township Monday night, Granite City township on Tuesday night, and at Venice township last night. The Venice meeting, attended by only eight persons because of heavy rains, was held in the city hall at Venice.

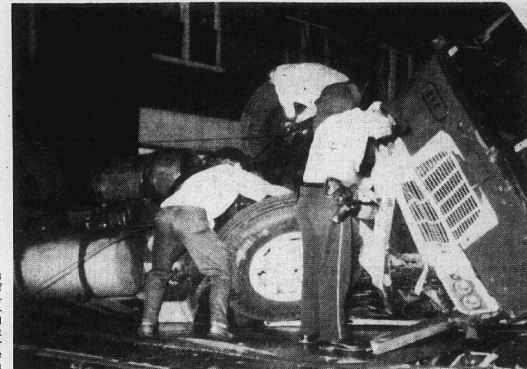

Attorney Nick Vasiloff served as moderator of the special Venice township meeting in which the electors approved a resolution permitting amendment of the townships' 1970-71 budget and appropriation to include the $8000 engineering fund. Venice Supervisor Arthur Cooper Moore moved for adoption of the resolution. There were no dissenting votes.

Chouteau Meets Monday
Chouteau township, the fourth in the Quad-City area, has called a special meeting next Monday night. Town officials said they anticipate no difficulty in adoption of a similar resolution by Chouteau township electors.

The $8000 provided by each of the four townships will make up a $32,000 fund that will finance the study necessary to application for federal funds, assuming the study indicates that a project could be adapted to serve the areas of all four townships.

The joint sewer project would

THE DRIVER WALKED away from this tangled mass of wreckage of a tractor-trailer truck that was struck by an Illinois Terminal Railroad train at 14th street and Madison avenue about 3:30 a.m. today. The truck cargo of bar steel was scattered about the street. Madison Officer William Papa notes details of accident while workers prepare to clear away wreckage blocking Madison avenue.

Tractor-Trailer Demolished in Train Collision

A v-type tractor-trailer loaded with bar steel was demolished in a collision with an Illinois Terminal train at the 14th street crossing on Madison avenue about 3:30 a.m. today.

The driver, Homer Capor, of Warren, Ohio, escaped with a few scratches, but Louis Karlos, 42, Wood River, switchman on the train, suffered a cut to the right foot and abrasions to the right foot and ankle.

Karlos was given emergency treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital and transferred to Missouri-Pacific Hospital, St. Louis.

The collision literally tore the cab of the tractor and the trailer apart, and scattered steel and wreckage across Madison avenue. Three metal flasher signal standards were sheared off level with the street.

Capor told police the loss was about $25,000. The tractor and trailer had been purchased only recently, it was reported. Police said Capor owned the rig and was driving for the Lee-Way Motor Freight Co. of Warren, Ohio.

Tax Collections
Start Next Week
In Venice and GC

Granite City and Venice townships will begin their 1970 tax collections next week, it was announced today.

Collection of taxes in Venice township will get under way Monday at the township's new assessing and collecting office in the old First National Bank building at Fourth street and Madison avenue in Madison.

Frank Reitelberger Jr., town collector, said payments may be made at the office from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily. Reitelberger said a deadline date for the tax collection period has not yet been set.

Granite City taxpayers may begin making payments Wednesday, July 1, at the city tax office in the city hall, according to City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich.

Sets Aug. 28 Deadline
Rich said he plans to mail tax bills Monday and Tuesday and begin collections on Wednesday. Because the collection period is starting later than usual, he said, collections will continue through Aug. 28. Tax books must be returned to the city treasurer on Sept. 1.

Taxpayers of Nameki township begin paying their taxes last Monday at the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank, where the township tax collectors have been under way since mid-May.

Nameki Collector Edgar Paton had not announced a deadline date, but Chouteau collections are to end Saturday, according to Collector Charles Lesow.

The four Quad-City township collections are charged this year with collection of an all-time record tax extension totaling $1,965,376 in local taxes, compared with $14,822 billed for collection last year.

Rail Taxes To County
An additional $382,663 in railroad taxes has been paid, but these taxes are not collected by the town collectors. Railroad tax bills are paid directly to the county treasurer.

Granite City taxpayers will pay the biggest portion of the 1969 tax bill to be collected this year—a total of $9,828,714. Last year's Granite City billing in local taxes was $9,170,870.

In Venice township, taxpayers have been billed for payment of $3,117,689, a woman, an 18-year-old girl and a 16-year-old girl also were at the Maple street address when the arrests took place.

Recovered at the residence were checks, small coin collections, assorted jewelry items and the two weapons.

Expansion at Bellemore to Enlarge Four Retail Units

Plans for extensive remodeling at Bellemore Village shopping center, including construction of 12,000 square feet of additional floor space for four of the center's stores, was announced yesterday following issuance of a building permit for the project to Village Shopping Center Inc., St. Louis.

Work on the expansion will get under way in about two weeks and will take about three months for completion, according to a spokesman for Wolff Construction Co., St. Louis, contractor for the job.

The projected work will cost about $80,000, the spokesman said.

The work will include remodeling of all store fronts and construction of a building addition to the rear of the main building that will permit expansion of the Arcade area and stores now occupied by Glick's, Bellemore Hardware and Sporting Goods store and Reese Drug store.

To Expand Arcade
All shops and businesses now located in the Arcade, including the beauty shop, shoe repair shop and barber shop will remain as occupants of the Arcade after the remodeling, but will occupy remodeled and expanded quarters, the spokesman for the shopping center firm reported. He said two office spaces formerly occupied by a real estate firm and a liquor store will be remodeled and redecorated and made available for leasing.

The $80,000 estimated cost increases to $138,816 the total value of building work projected in construction and building work for which city permits

Trio Being Held

GC Man Wounded Last Night While Investigating Noises

A trio of burglary suspects is in custody today following the shooting of a Granite City resident who was wounded at 11:10 p.m. Wednesday while investigating noises coming from a neighbor's home.

Fred Riecken, 42, of 2584 East 27th street, was shot in the left thigh by a fleeing man when he walked to the rear of his next-door neighbor's house to track down the source of noise he heard upon arriving at his own residence.

The wounded man was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he is reported today in good condition.

Riecken told police officers that as he went to the rear of the Archie D. Pulley dwelling at 2584 East 27th street, he saw a person carrying something toward the alley.

The person entered a vehicle in the alley in which there were other persons, Riecken said. He reported hearing "shots," then a shot was fired from the vehicle striking him in the leg.

After the incident, police officers report that loot from the Pulley residence and two revolvers were found.

Taken into custody were Larry Hodges, 23, of 3801 Lake drive, Danny Tubbs, 17, of 2825 Maryville street, and Archie Pulley, 18, of 1727 Maple street. All were charged today with aggravated battery and burglary.

A juvenile arrested with the trio was turned over to juvenile authorities. A woman, an 18-year-old girl and a 16-year-old girl also were at the Maple street address when the arrests took place.

Recovered at the residence were checks, small coin collections, assorted jewelry items and the two weapons.

Eight talented and lovely young women will step onto the stage at Granite City high school auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Sunday to compete for the title of Miss Granite City and an opportunity to share in scholarships and honors at the Miss Illinois and Miss America contests later this summer.

The local pageant, sponsored annually by the Granite City Jaycees, is open to the public, with tickets available in advance from Jaycee and Jayceette members or at the auditorium door the evening of the show. Bob Fry, general chairman said today.

Fry also announced that eight Quad-City business firms have agreed to sponsor the candidates and many local merchants will donate individual gifts to the pageant contestants.

Candidates, Sponsors
The 1970 Miss Granite City candidates and their sponsors are—Miss Catherine Lynn Roter, 18, First Granite City Savings Bank; Miss Deborah Marie Scaturro, 19, Stephanie Shop; Miss Deborah Kay Hightower, 18, Granite City Sheet Metal Co.; Miss Debra Lynn Herring, 18, Granite City Trust & Savings Bank.

During the tea, each of the candidates will be interviewed by the panel of judges, whose identities remain undisclosed prior to the contest.

Judging in this year's Miss Granite City Pageant follows closely the procedure in previous contests, Fry explained, noting that the same basics are used by judges in the state and national contests.

Candidates are rated upon talent presentation, poise and beauty in the evening gown segment, appearance in a swim suit and personality. Judging is based on a five-point scale, with the first place winner in each segment receiving five points and last, one point.

Contest Requirements
To be eligible for the annual beauty-talent show, a candidate must be between the ages of 18 and 23 on Sept. 1; a high school senior or college freshman.

Claims Conflict of Interest by City's Legal Department

Granite City council members again overrode an out-of-order ruling by Mayor Partney and voted Monday night to hire Township Attorney William Schooley to represent them in law suits involving the two women serving as police dispatchers claiming there was a "conflict of interest" on the part of the city's legal staff.

The women, Mrs. Marge Hall and Mrs. Cleo Buttry, won judgments for back pay in the small claims court on June 4, and in separate mandamus proceedings, filed by the Police Union against the police chief over the women's assignments, a motion to dismiss that suit was denied in the circuit court last week.

Last month, the council instructed City Atty. Leon Scroggin to file suit against the city itself to determine the legality of the mayor's action on Feb. 1 in naming the two women as civilian dispatchers.

One Woman Quits
One of the women, Mrs. Buttry, has found another job and turned in her resignation Monday night. She and Mrs. Hall have not been paid since March 1, despite the small claims court order handed down in their favor on June 4.

Alderman Moerlein made the motion Monday night to withhold the women's pay until the last of June, and won council approval 11-3.

Moerlein then motioned for Schooley to be hired on an hourly basis to represent the council in the cases. He said another hearing is needed "due to a conflict of interest involving the city attorney and assistant city attorney (Larry Hartman) who are the mayor's appointees."

Mayor Partney quickly ruled the motion out-of-order. If the women's pay is withheld, Moerlein retorted. "Because we have two attorneys we have no problem."

Protests
Moerlein protested that the city attorney had failed to file briefs in the small claims case, saying he needed help. "This has the time to do the necessary work. I appeal to the council to override the mayor's ruling."

Partney told the council that police departments all over the country are turning to civilian dispatchers to relieve policemen for police duties. "It's a waste of manpower for a qualified policeman to be on the desk. I just read about that in a national report."

Entering the debate, Alderman Beatty remarked, "The city attorney can't represent both sides." Alderman Robertson added that the validity of the city's ordinance calling for policemen to be on the desk needs to be decided. "We asked the city attorney to prepare the ordinance, and now we're asking for an outside attorney to help us. We passed the ordinance, and the city attorney finds it can't be enforced."

Partney replied, "You ordered the city attorney to prepare the ordinance."

75th Anniversary Festival Planned for Granite City

Granite City is planning a festival for its 75th anniversary next year. Authorization was given Monday night by the city council for the Chamber of Commerce to arrange all the details. Mayor Partney pointed out the C. of C. has committees and can organize special groups to work out the arrangements.

Partney recalled that in 1946, when Granite City was 50 years old, Alderman Charles Moore was mayor of the city and arranged for a parade, festival and old-time picnic. The Chamber of Commerce, at the request of the city last year, conducted a contest for design of a city flag and the flags are to be available for display throughout the 75th anniversary year of 1971.

Albert Froemling, C. of C. president, has sent letters to local businessmen offering the flags for sale at $12 each. Orders for the flags may be placed with the Chamber of Commerce office.

Three local numismatists are conducting a contest for design of a commemorative coin for both the diamond jubilee of the city and golden anniversary of the Granite City park district.

Council Flares Up Over Bog Down In Salary Talks

A flare-up between aldermen and a union representative and disagreement between the aldermen and officials over the responsibility of city license fee collections were among the highlights of Monday night's Granite City council meeting.

Both issues involved pay increases.

The council voted $50 monthly increases for City Inspector Lawrence Drue and Building Inspector Orville Delor, and instructed the Special Negotiating committee to continue pay talks with the 14 city hall secretaries and clerks.

James Coffay, business agent for Service Employees Local 98 representing the secretaries and clerks, told council members he had been advised by Alderman Robertson, chairman of the Negotiating committee, that he would not present the union's demand for a $50 monthly increase to the council.

"He told me he would not bring in anything the council would turn down," Coffay said. "I've presented a proposal and have met twice with the committee, Robertson, Morlen and Dallas. They gave me a proposal and it was not acceptable," Coffay said.

"I gave Robertson our proposal and he said he won't present it to the council. Is Robertson running the council?" the union business agent asked.

Robertson answered, "That sounds like the committee has a closed mind. He (Coffay) stands firmly on $50 and said he will not negotiate on anything less."

"He said everyone on the city council is equal, but the secretaries' jobs are not quite so rough. Would the ladies be able to do the rough work of the street department?"

"We all know the financial condition of the city," Robertson continued. "We believe in fairness, but we believe the city is not going to be reached below $30. They won't negotiate and refuse anything less than $50."

The council has agreed to $50 increases for policemen, firemen, street workers and sewage treatment plant workers, and Alderman Boler pointed out that last week Robertson called for a $50 monthly increase and vacation pay for the part-time operator of the insect spray machine.

"All of this should come from the council, and the council should be briefed on the issues," he added.

Relates Steps Taken
Alderman Morlen, a member of the Negotiating committee, said the committee's first offer was $25 a month, then 20 cents an hour which figures about $35 a month. "He told us nothing less than $50," Coffay remarked there had been only two negotiating sessions since April. "The secretaries should get the minimum increase being given by the city or it's discrimination," he added.

"I will meet at any time," he added.

Robertson said the committee

Another City Auto Tag Drive Is Planned

Another drive on Granite City motorists failing to display 1970-71 city auto license stickers is being planned. Police Chief Ronald Veizer told Granite City council members Monday night.

He did not disclose the date. To date, 14,214 of the 33 windshield stickers have been sold in two months, compared to 14,500 during all of the 1969 fiscal year. A police crackdown was staged about three weeks ago. The licenses are available in the city clerk's office in the city hall.

GC Township Electors Ok Sewer Study

Granite City township electors voted in a special meeting Tuesday evening to approve the 1970-71 budget and tax levy to provide funds for a four-township feasibility study for sanitary sewers to serve Chouteau, Nameoki, Venice and Granite City townships.

The special meeting, called by Township Supervisor Nelson Hagauer, was attended by about 30 electors. Monroe Worthen was named moderator, and was assisted by City-Township Clerk Robert Stevens and Township Atty. William Schooley, who presented the resolutions.

Opposition to the $3000 study was voiced by Mayor Partney, who upon being recognized to speak, first called for a moment of silent prayer for Assistant Township Supervisor Milton R. Allen.

City Has Plans
Mayor Partney stressed Granite City does not need a feasibility study for sanitary sewers, since it has a sanitary-storm water sewer plan that was devised in 1961 at a cost of $120,000, and which includes plans for future expansion.

He added that all homes and establishments in Granite City are served by the city's sanitary sewer system.

"I'm in full sympathy with our neighbors, but with the financial condition of the city and with the township now issuing tax anticipation warrants, I can see no reason for any other - and if there is no benefit to Granite City, there will be no cost for Granite City."

Schooley answered that Partney was answered by Township Atty. Schooley, who also is attorney for Nameoki township.

He explained the four townships are trying to help each other - and if there is no benefit to Granite City, there will be no cost for Granite City.

Schooley added that federal funds are not available for the feasibility study, but that the county board has authorized the four townships to undertake the program on a cooperative basis under the guidance of a special committee composed of Board of Supervisors Chairman Harold Landolt and Granite City Supervisor Hagauer, Nameoki Supervisor Harry Briggs, Venice Supervisor Arthur "Coop" Moore and Chouteau Supervisor Walter Sparks.

Bringing Area Together
"In my opinion," Schooley said, "this is a step in bringing the area together with regional planning for an integrated sewer system that could aid Granite City as well as providing sanitary sewers in areas of the other townships."

Partney noted that the Granite City sewage treatment plant was designed to serve an area extending north and east to Mitchell and to the bluffs.

When the resolutions were presented to amend the budget and the tax levy were presented, there were two negative and 29 or more affirmative votes.

Township officials present included Hagauer, Stevens and four aldermen, who also are on the town board of auditors along with Mayor Partney. The aldermen present were Paul Rutledge, William Dallas, Charles Moerlen and R. E. Robertson.

Courtesy Boat Safety Inspections June 27-28

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has proclaimed the period from June 28 to July 5 as National Safe Boating Week in Illinois. Theme of the week is "Safe Boating Is No Accident."

Bill Miller, chief law enforcement officer of the Illinois Department of Conservation, said Operation Boat Safety Inspection will be in effect on June 27 and 28, the first weekend of National Safe Boating Week.

"Safe boating is no accident; you have to work at it," Miller stressed. "This year, we will follow the pattern established during last year's observance."

"Conservation officers will be assigned to heavily-used boat launching ramps throughout the state. The officers will check pleasure craft before they are launched. Our purpose is to be sure the boats are seaworthy and are equipped as required by regulations."

"We will not issue citations for violations during these courtesy inspections. If any officer finds a violation, he tells the boater what is wrong and how to correct it."

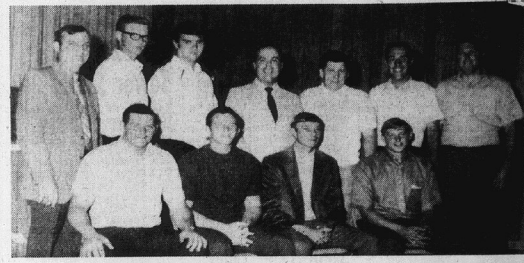

"Last year, we checked over 10,000 craft during Operation Boat Safety Inspection," Miller said. "We asked boat operators what they thought of the idea, and the majority were in favor of it."

Miller said better law enforcement, boating safety classes conducted with the co-operation of the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, the Power Squadron and other organizations, and other services to boaters have reduced boating fatalities.

"In 1960, about 100,000 boats were registered in the state and we had 81 fatal accidents," Miller pointed out. "Last year, 42 people were killed in boating accidents. Close to 200,000 boats were registered."

"Our ultimate goal is to have accident-free pleasure boating in Illinois. Operation Boat Safety Inspection is in effect on June 27 and 28, but our officers are on duty throughout the year."

"Any boater who needs assistance or advice does not have to wait until National Safe Boating Week. Feel free to call on our officers for help at any time."

Cites Tree Nursery GC Clean Air Chairman Commends Garden Club

The Gardenaires Garden Club was commended today by Henry S. Bierniecki, chairman of the Granite City Air Pollution Control board, for its project of establishing a tree nursery for the city.

"This project," Bierniecki said, "has a tremendous potential for our community, not only for esthetic reasons, but for the beneficial effects of filtering dust and gases from our air and returning oxygen."

"An industrial community such as ours," he continued, "cannot expect to have resort quality air, but conversely, we should expect to have to make exceptional efforts to achieve an air quality that will not endanger the health of infants and children, the elderly and those among us who are particularly vulnerable to air pollution."

"The effort of your club to promote the planting of trees throughout the community is such an exceptional effort and deserves widespread support and emulation."

Bierniecki directed his commendation to Mrs. A. A. Maloney, president of the club. "It is my understanding," he added, "that Mrs. Earl Glenn contributed greatly toward the successful establishment of this project by refusing to admit defeat before each obstacle that arose. Please extend to her my appreciation for prodigious efforts and also for involving students in this worthy community project."

Legion Scores First, Foes Have Last Laugh

Granite City had a rough night in American Legion league baseball Tuesday, dropping an 8-1 game at Belleville. The game began well enough; the Granite Cityers led in the first inning on singles by Don Harris, Jim Greenwald and Rich Schardan.

After this, Granite City could get only scattered hits and left seven base runners stranded. Harris was the only local player to collect more than one hit.

Chuck Wilke, a Belleville East high veteran, pitched the victory. He was relieved in the sixth by Don Fitzgerald. The Belleville hurlers allowed seven hits, Jeff Boyles took the pitching loss, going four innings. He allowed six hits and three walks. Victor Reznack relieved for

Legion 2-1 Victim in Mound Duel

Ed Hagnauer, who had remained undefeated all season, pitching seven wins for Granite City high, suffered his second close loss of the American Legion season in bowling 2-1 in an exhibition game at Carlyle Monday. He had earlier dropped a 1-0 decision.

Hagnauer allowed just three hits but all of them were in the first inning, when Carlyle scored both its runs. After the fatal first frame, Carlyle could knock only one ball into the outfield.

For the night, Hagnauer fanned five, walking eight. He had to work out of a bases-loaded situation in the fifth. Don Kneke, a hurler for Mater Dei High of Eureka in the spring, registered the win, fanning 14 and allowing two hits and five walks.

Granite City's lone tally came in the first. Rich Schardan walked and Jim Bequette sacrificed. Dave Evans touched and Kneke for an RB single. Jim Greenwald walked with one out, but the threat ended there. Greenwald singled in the fourth for the other GC hit. GC left seven men on base; Carlyle, eight.

Motorcycle Racing At Local Speedway Saturday Evening

Professional motorcycle racing is again scheduled for Saturday at the Tri-City Speedway. Last week's program was rained out. Time trials are set for 7:30 p.m. and racing for 8 p.m.

Among the field of riders will be national number wearers: Neal Keen of Pasadena, Calif., the defending U. S. short track champion; Daniel Dovel of Atlanta, Ga., U. S. crown wearer last year; and Ron Widman of St. Louis and Billy O'Brien of Kenosha, Wis.

Keen, No. 10, rides a Yamaha racing bike. He is directly sponsored by the Yamaha Corp. and wears the factory colors of black and yellow on his all-leather uniform. O'Brien, No. 99, always fighting for the Irish, wears a white leather uniform with large green shamrocks. He rides a Bultaco.

Dovel, No. 45, rides an Ossa and Widman, No. 44 sponsored by a motorcycle dealer in St. Louis, rides a Harley-Davidson. Co-proprietor of the Granite City Honda dealership, Roy Higgins, hopes to race here this Saturday. He is experienced in scramble racing but lacks a license for professional closed-circuit racing.

If the license arrives before Saturday night, Higgins will steer a BSA cycle.

Six-Run Comeback Gains 8-5 Triumph

Coachlitters rallied past Clark Hardfacing 8-5, Mercer Ambulance beat Bob's Bait Shop 8-3 and Jacobsmeier whipped Miles Lab 11-4 in Southern Classic softball at Worthen Park Tuesday.

After trailing 5-2 on the scoreboard, Coachlitters picked up 14 hits to Clark's three hits in the later innings and finishing with a 28-11 hitting advantage. Top Coachlitter hitters, with three safeties including a double for each, were John Hudley, Jim Brawley and John Janek.

Mercer meshed its offense to score eight times on 12 hits while Bob's scored only three runs on 11 hits. Don Partney paced Mercer with a single and two doubles.

Jacobsmeier gained a solid 5-1 lead, scoring five runs on four hits and three errors in the second frame. Miles made only one other error during the contest, but Jacobsmeier kept collecting hits to end with a 16-8 hitting advantage. Jacobsmeier's Bill Birtley knocked out three triples and a single. Charles Kasson had two doubles and a single.

Room at the top could become even more crowded after Sunday's full slate of doubleheaders. Twinbills to begin at 1:30 p.m. are set for Wilson Park, with Maryville (5-5) and only 2½ games behind facing Mercer (7-3). Collinsville (5-4) butting heads with East Alton (7-3); and Bellemeor Sporting Goods (2-6) playing at Highland (1-7).

Last Sunday, Granite City's two-listed, two-team attack put Mercer on top of the standings. Mercer, behind Don Rains' strong arm, took revenge on Collinsville for two earlier setbacks and shut out Collinsville 6-0.

Bellemeor did its part by conquering the then league leaders, East Alton, 4-1, built on Arvil Taylor's opening-inning three-run homer at Wilson Park.

In the other league contest, Maryville edged Highland 2-1. All-stars to be chosen on Monday night, the Inter-

Mat Champ Brazzle To Attend SIU-SW

Glenn Brazzle, Missouri state wrestling champion in the 153-pound class as a high school senior, will enroll at SIU-SW, Larry Kristoff, Cougar wrestling coach, has announced. Brazzle is a graduate of Normandy high school and was undefeated in his senior year. "He is one of the best wrestlers in Missouri and I am looking for great things from him," Kristoff said yesterday.

City League will meet at East Alton to make selections for the 1970 all-star team.

All-stars from five teams are to play the team which is in first place after this Sunday's doubleheaders. The all-star game will be played July 12 at Highland.

If, after this Sunday, a tie results for first place, the first-place team which has scored the most runs through the season will face the all-stars. Among the possible first-place teams, Mercer has totaled 56 runs and East Alton and Collinsville have 55 apiece.

Aquatic Relays Next; Dual Meet Postponed

The Paddlers youth swimming team will compete in the Southwestern Illinois Swim Association Conference relays in the Hilltoppers pool, Dupo, starting at 9 a.m. Saturday.

The Summersport swimming club of Alton is favored to win the meet. Other swim clubs to enter are Bellefontaine of St. Louis county, Dorchester of Belleville, the Hilltoppers of Dupo, and Sunset Hills and Montclair of Edwardsville.

A dual swimming and diving meet with Bellefontaine, scheduled Tuesday at Paddlers, was postponed to July 2.

The water purification system of the pool used for competitive swimming was malfunctioning and that pool was temporarily closed. The other Paddlers pool is open to members for recreation swimming.

Jacobsmeyer edged the Jets 14-13 in an extra inning, Mexican Honorary held on to defeat Eagles 8-5 and B&A Bombers beat Northwestern Rentals 7-4 in High School Boys League softball at Wilson Park Tuesday.

An eight-run rally by Jacobsmeyer plus three runs in the fourth appeared to salt the game away with a lopsided 11-2 lead. The Jets retaliated with six innings of their own, scoring six in the fifth and five in the sixth to take a 13-1 lead.

Jacobsmeyer ticked off a run each in the bottom of the sixth, seventh and eighth innings for the win. Roger Short homered for the Jets in the fourth.

When the Eagles edged the Mexicans scored. The Eagles committed five errors, divided into the first, third and fifth innings, as Mexican Honorary scored three, two and three runs in these same innings. Don Hadix paced the Eagles with three hits, including a triple. Bob Galvan of the winners knocked a solo home.

B&A won despite leaving nine runners on base. Northwestern made ten miscues.

Paul Hollis hit three-for-four, including a home run, in pacing Quay City. Legion tallied three runs in the first but was scoreless for the remainder of the contest.

Midtown Pharmacy out-hit Hook's 21-9, led by Art Borcher's four safeties and C. J. Jones' and Jack Scarborough's three hits apiece.

Decide in Fall on New Members of Prep Conference

The Southwestern prep athletic conference met yesterday at Belleville and set Sept. 21 as the date to vote for or against petitions for new memberships from Belleville East, East St. Louis Lincoln and Cahokia.

Letters were drawn up and sent to the candidate schools informing them of the action.

During the September meeting, the league will go into executive session for the voting. Six of the current member schools will vote, not including Wood River, which will withdraw from the league the following year.

5 Extra-Base Hits By Cardinal Player

Loped his runner brought decisive results in Western Classic softball as Hagg's Heroes topped Jeanne's French Quarter 21-8. Jets clipped Eagles 14-2 and Cardinal Tavern bounced Odballs 24-3 at Worthen Park Monday.

Kevin Collegen batted four-for-four, including two doubles and a triple, but his Jeanne's teammates couldn't keep pace. Hagg's took a 28-13 hitting advantage, employing four-hit performances by Bob Zaruba, including a double and homer, Jeff Lybarger, including two doubles, and Larry Knox, including three doubles. Art Asadorian also homered for Hagg's.

Gary Penrod's four-for-four stick work led the Jets to a 17-8 hitting advantage.

Cardinal Tavern's Bill Apperson was the hottest hitter of the evening, collecting five extra-base hits in five trips to the plate. He powered two home runs, a triple and two doubles. Dave Pertree and Bill Apperson with four hits apiece also aided Cardinal in gaining a 29-11 hit advantage.

Dunn Advances in District Golf Meet

James Dunn of Granite City has qualified for the match play portion of a district golf tournament at Meadowbrook country club.

In qualifying rounds Tuesday and Wednesday, Dunn carded 74 and 77 for a 151-stroke total. Jay Haas, 15 years old, Southwestern prep conference tourney medalist from Belleville West high, notched rounds of 77-73 for 150.

Dunn, Haas, the other 29 still alive in the tourney and defending champion Jim Tom Blair began match play today. Two rounds will be played today and two rounds Friday; after a lay-off Saturday, the 36-hole title match will be held Sunday.

Dennis Green, 18, district prep champ from the Northwest links, earned the qualifying rounds medal. He won on the first hole in sudden death after tying with Bob Mason of Greenbrier Links and Sid Salomon III of Westwood. The three had been dejected with 149 totals.

Dunn's first match play foe today was to be Harry LeBeau, who qualified with 160 strokes.

GEORGE IN #44 RETURNS. George Gruenfelder of Madison will be among the drivers at the Tri-City Speedway Friday, vying for a position in the double-O feature race. A starlet program will be run this Friday in addition to the regular sprint car program.

Stock, Sprint Cars Slated Friday Night

If anyone knows who has been doing the Indiana rain dance at the Tri-City Speedway, tell him he'd better switch to a war dance for self-defense, because fender-bending stock cars will join the sprint cars this Friday.

In addition to a complete Capitol Racing Association sprint car program, open class lobby cars will race heats, a semiregular and a double-O feature — driving alternate laps on the quarter-mile and a half-mile track ovals.

Time trials are to begin at 7:30 p.m. and racing at 8:30 p.m.

The hobby car class is open to autos of any age and size. Chevy IIs, Mustangs or even upply Volkswagens could join in the contests.

Gruenfelder to Race
Hobbyists entered so far include veteran stock car drivers George Gruenfelder of Madison, Glen Sahling, a rural Granite Cityan, Bob Stanton, Alton, Roger Drake, Decatur; Art Lynch, Hillsboro, Ill.; and Clyde Lindelman, Florissant, Mo.

Gruenfelder will charter a 352-cubic-inch-displacement engine in a 1956 Ford which cost $1800 to rebuild. His car carries the number 44, as in past seasons at the Tri-City Speedway.

An all-Quad-City pit crew of Larry Beyer, Charles Shelton and George Lynn will be keeping No. 44 on the track.

Spaulding, Pedal Leader
Wib Spaulding, based on winning all three sprint features here this season, easily leads local track championship points standings with 700 points.

Qualifying as the fastest twice and second fastest once, Spaulding picked up 140 points. The three feature victories earned 510 points.

He has done less well in the heat events, garnering only 50 of his total points in heats.

Bill Utz is in second place with 540 points. He has always been among the top four feature placers and has qualified as best, second and third in the three programs held here. Utz, Hibbard 150, Steve Schuyl 160, Chuck Lynch 140, Wayne Fisher 130 and Jerry Johnson 120.

Sutcliffe Impressive
Sutcliffe missed one Friday night here while repairing his damaged auto. On both of the other nights, he placed second in the feature and a qualified well.

Jenkins has done well in heat events, placing sixth in the first six in features. On one occasion, heading for a feature win, Jenkins blew his engine and had to coast to the checkered flag.

Others ranking in the top ten are Jimmy Moughan 270, Russ Hibbard 150, Steve Schuyl 160, Chuck Lynch 140, Wayne Fisher 130 and Jerry Johnson 120.

$150 Scholarship

Winner of the Miss Granite City Pageant will receive a $150 scholarship from the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co., Alton, and gifts from local merchants and the Jaycees.

Miss Granite City will then compete against successful candidates from other local contests at the Miss Illinois Pageant, a week-long affair scheduled in Aurora July 20-25.

The victor in the state competition, in addition to winning the right to try for the Miss America crown at Atlantic City, N.J., in September, will receive scholarship awards and gifts amounting to more than $5000.

A total of $500,000 in scholarship awards is awarded annually in local, state and national pageants and over $1 million in scholarships at the national finals alone by the conclusion of the 50th anniversary of the Miss America Pageant this September.

Of the yearly $500,000 awards, over half is contributed by the Pepsi-Cola Co. and its 550 bottlers. A further $250,000 in scholarships provided by civic-minded individuals and industrial organizations are offered at local and state contests.

Each year, in excess of $60,000 in scholarship grants are presented at the national finals, ranging in value from $10,000, received by Miss America, to $1500 prizes for semi-finalists. Runners-up receive $600, first, $3000, second, $2500, third and $2000, fourth runner-up.

Additionally, $1500 grants are presented in the Miss America Pageant to the seven contestants selected as the most talented; Miss Congeniality and all preliminary winners not included in the other award categories. All national contestants receive a $500 award.

An added feature to the 1970 Miss Granite City Pageant will be entertainment by members of the "Roca Folies" cast, a group of local youths who will present the annual dinner-dance program July 24 and 25 and July 31 and Aug. 1, in the Three Hundred Room of the Tri Mot Bowl.

Excerpts from the forthcoming show to be viewed Sunday evening include a comedy routine, "Getting the Big Heads," by Chris Harizal, Eric Cunningham and Rich Diak; a singing duo, Tim Moore and Harry Diak, performing "Plant a Radish"; and an original comedy skit, titled "The Dating Game," presented by Dave Evans, Connie Murry, Brad Cross, Steve Burge and Tom Cardwell.

The "Folies" also is produced and directed by Earl Parsons, Roca adviser.

The local contestants include two blondes, four brunettes and two light brown-haired misses. Their average weight is 125½ pounds, with their individual weight ranging from 112 to 128 pounds.

Five candidates are five-feet, seven inches tall or a fraction over, two are five-feet, six-inches tall and one is five feet, four inches.

Five of the contestants are university students or college this fall and three are employed fulltime. All are graduates of Granite City high school, two girls having received their high school diplomas earlier this month.

Age-wise, they are evenly divided, with four contestants 18 years and four 19-years-old. All have fair or medium-fair complexions. Two have green eyes, two hazel, one blue-green and three have brown eyes.

Charm bracelets will be presented to all the candidates by the Granite City Jaycees. ## Gateway Council Oks Airport Plan

Endorsement of the Illinois-St. Louis plan for a second major two-state area airport to be built in Illinois was voted yesterday by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

Members of the council, who are heads of governing bodies in the two-state metropolitan area, voted 12-to-2 to support the plan agreed to recently by Gov. Ogilvie and St. Louis Mayor A. J. C. Cavanaugh and accepted a proposal to aid in the planning.

Gov. Ogilvie is expected to announce in the near future the results of studies, giving the location of the estimated $350,000,000 airport.

Stop Sign Charges

Two motorists were ticketed 5:40 p.m. Tuesday at Johnson road and Edgewood drive on charges of disobeying a stop sign. They were Walter L. Adams, 157 Second street, Madison, and Joe A. Drozza, 3128 Ash avenue.

pare ordinances to meet certain situations.

Scruggins Absent
City Atty. Scruggins, who fractured his left wrist last Friday while playing ball at the Madison County Bar Association's picnic, was not present.

Moerlein again called for the council to override the mayor's ruling on his motion to hire Schooley. It carried 11-to-3.

He then reintroduced the motion.

"It's not a question of women on the police desk," Moerlein pointed out, "but the way the mayor established the jobs and set up the pay without proper ordinance grants are presented."

The vote to hire Schooley was 11-to-3 with "aye" votes by Norn, Basarich, Boyd, Dallas, Moerlein, Parmer, Erberson, Poulos, Green, Dawes and Moerlein. Opposed were Rutledge, Whitmer and Baker.

Absent were Alderman Jarrett, who was working, and Alderman Schuler, who is on vacation.

Dispute on Trailer
The city attorney also came under fire over council-ordered action for the removal of a house trailer from a lot on Pershing avenue, for which no city permit had been issued.

Dallas asked why no action had been taken.

City Building Inspector Orville Delcourt replied that he was getting his advice from the city attorney, and "I got nothing."

"What's the city attorney doing?" Poulos asked.

Mayor Partney replied, "He's writing opinions that you won't accept."

Alderman Robertson commented that a motion had been made last week for the city attorney to proceed with prosecution under the city ordinance. "You, Mr. Mayor, and the city attorney and inspector are responsible."

(City Atty. Scruggins had been absent for a more detailed opinion on the Illinois Supreme Court ruling that a city could not ban house trailers and was instead to proceed with a test suit of the Granite City ordinance based on objections by residents to a trailer on Pershing avenue.)

Alderman Partney pointed out Monday night that the high court had ruled on the ordinance for the city of Sparta. "That city had no zoning code to back up its ordinance. We do." (The Granite City house trailer control law requires sign-off of consent by 70% of the property owners within 300 feet of the proposed trailer location.)

Robertson called for a legal opinion on the matter; and Mayor Partney answered, "Why not hire Schooley to do it?"

The alderman said, "We would, if we had the authority." The discussion ended as the mayor stated, "Schooley has been trying to get the job for some time."

No further action was taken in the matter of the trailer.

GC Man Stabbed, Hurt Critically In Madison Fight

Dale Misukonis, 26, of 4011 Kirkpatrick Homes, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital in critical condition early Tuesday morning following a fight in Madison in which he suffered multiple stab wounds.

Madison police said Misukonis suffered a number of stab wounds from his waist to the upper part of his chest, some 6 1/2 inches long and one and one half inch deep. He was reported in "fair" condition today.

Two hours after the fight at the corner of Fourth street and Madison avenue, police arrested Neal Clinton Burns, 28, of 1619 Delmar avenue, on a charge of aggravated battery. Burns was arraigned in magistrate court later Tuesday and posted $1000 cash bond pending a preliminary hearing.

Chief of Police Frank Duto said Burns turned over to officers a fingernail file which he said he used during the fight. He said police found no knife on Burns or near the scene of the fight.

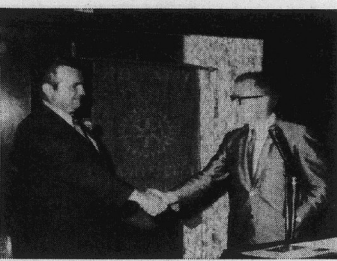

According to police, the fight occurred on the sidewalk outside Johnny Lewis' tavern about 3:20 a.m. as the climax of an earlier argument that involved a woman who had been with Burns. Officers said they had not completely established how the fight started, or why. Officers called to the scene said Misukonis was bleeding profusely and that Burns had left just before they arrived.

Law Requiring Referendum Halts Jail Addition Plan

Three proposed contracts for construction of an addition to the Madison county jail building in Edwardsville have been ordered cancelled and the county board of supervisors has been informed that it must either establish a public building commission or obtain voter approval before it can proceed with the project.

The ruling that the county would be acting illegally if it signs contracts for the new sheriff's department building came from Marshall Smith, assistant state's attorney. Smith told members of the county board's building and jail committees that "you'll have to tell the contractors you don't have the authority to sign the contracts."

The committees recently received bids on the building work, selected the low bid and notified the contractors their offers would be accepted. Contracts had not been signed, however.

Need Voter Approval
Smith then advised the committee members that under state law counties cannot save money for capital improvements without first getting voter approval.

This left the county with two alternatives for financing the $146,720 project. One would be to place the project before the people in a referendum. The other would be the establishment of a Public Building Commission.

Illinois law permits public building commissions to issue bonds without a referendum to construct public buildings which the commission then leases to the county under long-term agreements. The county can levy a tax up to 5 cents per $100 assessed valuation to pay rental fees to the building commission. No referendum is required on the tax levy.

Construction of the sheriff's department building, which would house a new sheriff's office, dispatch room, lineup room and interrogation room, appropriated two years ago, as well as an indoor recreation area for jail inmates, has been withdrawn at that time, after involved in a referendum, it was a highly controversial issue and bids had been submitted. About $59,000 of the original appropriation remains and has been budgeted for the jail building project.

Money for the project was added.

Smith suggested that because of the time and expense involved in a referendum, it would be better for the county to set up a Public Building Commission. Some county board members have been reluctant to do so, however, apparently from fear they would lose some of their powers.

Smith said Harold Landolt, chairman of the county board, could complete appointment and establishment of such a commission in time for board approval in the next regular meeting July 15.

2 Local Artists to Present Concert Recital Sunday

Mrs. June Nightwine Branding, a lyric-soprano and Mrs. Catherine E. French, concert pianist, will appear in concert recital at 3 p.m. Sunday at Nameoki Methodist Church. It was announced this week by Robert J. Childers, general director of F.A.M.E.-East (Friends of Artistic and Musical Endeavors-Illinois Branch).

The public is invited to attend the event without charge. Childers said, noting a widely-diversified program will be offered, including the "Exultate, Jubilate" by Mozart and "Estampes" by Debussy. Commenting on the absence of an admission fee for the recital, Childers said, "The program is being presented as a F.A.M.E.-East cultural gift to the community, as our way of saying thank you to the entire area for helping the organization become a success in its first year of existence."

Mrs. Branding has been widely acclaimed for her beauty and richness of her voice, as well as her consummate artistry. She received a bachelor of music degree from SIU-Carbondale campus and also attended Washington University in St. Louis. She has studied voice with Annabelle Summerfeldt, Nell Tangeman, Leslie Chabay and Dr. William Taylor.

Mrs. Branding was the 1962 Regional Metropolitan Opera Audition winner and was a leading singer with the St. Louis Grand Opera Guild and the Mississippi Valley Opera Company. Last year, she sang the lead role in the F.A.M.E.-East production of "La Bohème," and currently is in rehearsal for the group's presentation of "La Tosca" this fall.

The Granite Cityan is listed in "Who's Who" and "Most Outstanding Women of America." She has taught music in both the Roxana and Granite City school districts and presently is choir and musical director of F.A.M.E.-East and the East Bank Players, a Quad-City community theatre group.

In addition to her affiliations in the world of music, Mrs. Branding also is active in the Garden Club and the Evening Etude Club. An alumnae of Delta Zeta Sorority, the soprano, her husband, Richard Branding and their two children, reside at 2439 Lynch avenue.

Achieved Pianist
In her concert debut last year, under the auspices of F.A.M.E.-East, Mrs. French received a standing ovation from the audience. She studied music at the National Music Camp at Interlochen, Mich.; the University of Wisconsin; the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago; and Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville campus.

At SIU-SW, Mrs. French studied piano under Professors Clayton Henderson and Renato Premazzi. She serves as accompanist for F.A.M.E.-East presentations, and is associate musical director of the group.

The pianist was nominated this year for both "Mother of the Year" and "Outstanding Woman of the Year—Metro-East Area" honors. She is the 1970-71 president of the Evening Etude Music Club of Childers said that invitations to the recital have been mailed to area music teachers, students and "lovers of good music who should find this concert rewarding and enjoyable." He stressed, however, interested individuals are invited to attend without a specific invitation card. A reception and tea, hosted by the Evening Etude Club, will follow the recital.

The general director explained that F.A.M.E.-East is a not-for-profit cultural and educational corporation, designed to provide area residents with opportunities for artistic growth and development in the seven arts. # Public Urged to Demand Humane Treatment of the 1500 American Servicemen Captured in Vietnam

By CONGRESSMAN MELVIN PRICE

More than 1500 American servicemen are either prisoners of war or missing in action.

There is no more crucial issue facing this country today and, unfortunately, we appear to be as far from settling this humanitarian issue as we are from arriving at a political solution to our problems in Indochina.

Prior to 1969, there was little said about the prisoner issue, in the belief that quiet negotiations would best resolve this problem—but this approach brought no significant progress.

Early in 1969, it was determined that it was important that the American people know that all human beings around the world, be made aware of the attitude of the North Vietnamese, the Viet Cong, and the Pathet Lao for their continuing inhumane treatment of prisoners of war.

As a result of this publicity surrounding the issue, thousands of people have expressed their support of our demand for humane treatment of prisoners. Similar concern has been expressed by officials of many foreign countries.

This past fall, during the International Red Cross meeting in Istanbul, a resolution was passed without dissent, calling for humane treatment of prisoners. The prisoner question also has been debated at the United Nations.

In February of this year, our Ambassador Habib began to address the prisoner-of-war question at each session of the Paris negotiations. He made it very clear that the North Vietnamese had not been abiding by the Geneva Convention requirements on the humane treatment of prisoners of war.

Yet his forceful pleas—which are not given the news coverage they deserve—have fallen on deaf ears of the negotiators from Hanoi and the National Liberation Front.

On May 1, 1970, a great rally sponsored by Members of both Houses of the Congress and by members of both political parties met in Constitution Hall in Washington, D. C., to raise their voices against the inhumanity of the Communist Forces on this humane issue.

The main floor of the Hall was packed with 1250 next-of-kin of those American servicemen who are prisoners of war or missing in action. It was an emotional experience from the very beginning.

While many wives or widows appeared on the program along with the Vice-President of the United States, members of the Senate and the House of Representatives, astronaut James Lovell, movie star Robert Cummings and singer Jack Jones, the real star of the event and hero to these unfortunate families was Texas billionaire Ross Perot.

He told those there assembled that the North Vietnamese could not understand why a nation with over 200 million population could be concerned with only 1500.

They believe that our governmental position is not a serious effort on this prisoner-of-war question—but merely a propaganda program. In all their discussions, they constantly refer to "500-7."

Perot believes that serious discussion of this problem probably can be arranged only when the representatives from Hanoi recognize that 200 million American citizens regard the 1500 American servicemen who are prisoners of war or missing in action as the most important 1500 Americans.

We must mobilize public opinion throughout the United States to the extent that Hanoi realize that the very first issue to be resolved is the issue of prisoners of war. Until this problem is settled, negotiations on any other issue are meaningless.

He suggested several measures which we in the Congress could undertake.

First, we should ask the Chairman of the House of Representatives and the U. S. Senate to include in their report by which Congress is opened each year, special prayers for the POW's and MIA's and their families.

He suggested that a joint session of Congress be convened to hear from the families of these American servicemen—to tell on national television their experiences in trying to discover whether they are widows or to try to secure more humane treatment for those known to be prisoners.

He suggested making replicas of the cells in which these few who have either escaped or been released, to be placed in the White House, and still another at the Pentagon.

If we are to be supporting these ideas in the Congress, and on the local level, there are several suggestions which I would like to present.

First, include in the opening prayer at each of your meetings, a prayer for these American servicemen and their families. Ask all service clubs to follow in this pattern.

Second, conduct your local prayer in each of your services.

Third, in your family prayers or devotions, pledge to also pray for these men and their families.

Fourth, to secure from Ross Perot replicas of the cells and erect one in the most conspicuous place in your community.

Fifth, saturate your community with literature and talk so that the prisoner-of-war issue becomes the most important American issue in America.

By working together, perhaps we can bring about a rising tide of public opinion so there can be no mistake in Hanoi that the 1500 prisoners of war or missing in action are the most important Americans anywhere—and that until we are given assurance that those held will be accorded humane treatment and until Hanoi furnishes to us a list of those so held, other issues cannot be resolved.

New Law on Impounding of Dogs

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

Man's best friend has a friend in the law.

At one time, if a dog bit somebody, the law said he had to be taken into custody for 10 days to determine whether he had rabies. It didn't matter whether he had been inoculated for rabies or not; the dog was impounded.

Now the law has been changed because of improved vaccine and better rabies control.

The dog who has bitten someone need no longer be impounded, provided he had been inoculated for rabies. Instead, he may be kept under home surveillance for the 10-day period and examined on the first and tenth day of that period.

Under the change enacted by the 1969 state legislature, only the dog who has not been inoculated must be taken to a pound or observed by a veterinarian.

Incidence of rabies in dogs in Illinois is now at its lowest level since the Rabies Law has been enacted, which may have influenced the lawmakers.

At one time, the state reported several hundred instances of rabies each year. But the number has declined steadily and recently only a few have been reported.

Laws involving the licensing, impounding of stray dogs and restrictions on dogs running at large all have helped bring the rabies problems under control.

Dog owners themselves pay part of the cost of control activities through license fees collected by county or township assessors or by municipalities.

Under the law, dogs must be vaccinated at age four months or older, the vaccination to be administered by a licensed veterinarian or the local rabies inspector.

An owner who does not cause his dog to be inoculated runs certain risks. If apprehended, the dog is impounded and can be killed or impounded upon payment for its inoculation, plus the cost of the dog's stay at the pound and a $1 penalty and a court citation.

Dogs not registered by their owners may be turned over to an institution licensed to live dogs for scientific or educational purposes.

If a dog bites someone, the incident must be reported to a physician or your local police department or local health authorities.

If the dog is found to be rabid, authorities will seek to destroy where the dog is confined. The disease and what other persons or animals may have been exposed to it.

Morris Legacy a Dream Come True—Bright Era of Educational Progress, Expansion

The record of Delyte W. Morris as president of Southwestern Illinois State University is one of towering achievements. His advancement to president emeritus Sept. 1 will end a significant chapter in the history of Illinois and the history of higher education.

When relatively poor and underdeveloped southern areas of the state needed a friend, needed leadership, he was the man with a dream and the skill to make that dream a reality.

From a small college, he built a university of immense proportions, its skyscraper dormitories symbolizing the soaring heights to which SIU lifted the aspirations and abilities of a wide sector of this state. The institution grew into a considerable economic activity and infused nearby communities with learned people who brought new dimensions and energy and expertise to civic tasks. Graduate students in professional and vocational roles throughout the world.

Development of the Southwestern campus presented a difficult challenge because of its location within the heart of a big and growing metropolitan area. SIU-SW could not dominate such a populous and diverse region but it could inspire and assist, study and educate, lead and build—set in the heart of a large and scenic campus—an awe-inspiring sight and the quality of its teaching and research are first-rate. Combined, the two campuses make up the 17th largest university in the U. S.

Because the long "honeymoon" with legislators and SIU trustees had ended, due to constant over a century-long project and Carbonade student disturbances, there is no doubt that the effectiveness of President Morris had diminished. He recognized this in his discussion of the phased retirement plan, noting that the fullest possible cooperation between General Assembly, board and administration is necessary to meet the new challenges confronting universities everywhere.

The events of recent months do not dim the luster of past accomplishments by an educational leader of such giant industry and vision. And the Southwestern and Carbonade schools which seem likely to be separated or, at the very

The FORUM

PHONE CAMPAIGN USING FALSE HOUSING RUMORS

Supporters of one of the candidates for mayor of Madison for using my name in a deliberately vicious and untruthful telephone campaign in an attempt to frighten anyone "panic" intelligent voters.

I did not dignify this vilification with my name, and I did not identify involved or repeating his "scare" propaganda.

I would like all my friends in Madison to know the truth, which is: The Schermers are not in the real estate business.

We have never been in the real estate business. We have no intention of getting into the real estate business, or of building any houses, duplexes or buildings of any kind, including "high rise" apartments.

Your publishing of this letter should lay to rest all of these ill-conceived falsehoods which have been spread. They are obviously the product of a "sick" mind but this is not my problem.

Also, I would like to urge all who are in Madison to stand up like a man when you have occasion to write this column and not let the publishing of my name. This is a free country and you have nothing to fear.

There is no reason for the display of cowardice which is evident when letters appear "do not use my name" or "concerned Madisonian," etc., etc.

To many friends, I say, if you hear any of these rumors or lies or whatever you wish to call them, see me personally and I will be glad to clear them up.

The truth never hurt anyone and it can't hurt me. Lies, if told often enough, sometimes make a person get accepted as true, and they may hurt. My record as an "interested Madisonian" speaks for itself.

The pride of our family is that in 42 years no man has ever to my knowledge pointed a finger and said that he had least, given much greater autonomy—have every prospect of becoming even more useful to Illinois, the Midwest and the nation in the future, following new and broader avenues of service.

The two universities are his legacy. We can think of no more appropriate symbols and remembrances of his 22-year presidency.

United Fund Goal Well Within Attainment If All Contribute Fair Share to Campaign

The Tri-Cities Area United Fund goal of $407,000 for operation of local service agencies in 1971 is both challenging and attainable.

This amount of money has not been raised in the past; the drive last fall provided $369,320. But it is within the ability of Quad-Cities to surpass this level of giving, and the $407,000 target is at conservative estimate.

The agencies sought $493,000, and with considerable justification: the lower allocations primarily result from the widespread desire to achieve a "control" campaign rather than one so ambitious that failure would be inevitable. About 100% drives again become the pattern, future budgets can be built on this solid foundation and geared more closely to the actual needs.

The drive slogan for this fall "tells it like it is" to the residents, employees, stores, companies and organizations of the Quad-City area.

"If you don't do it, it won't get done. Are you giving your fair share?"

Fair-share contributions by all who directly or indirectly benefit from the dedicated and efficient United Fund agencies can assure the funds needed to continue their vital services during the coming year.

Excellence in Planning, Implementation Recognized by Southwestern Commission

In almost every issue of the Press-Record this year, Henry D. Karandjoff has been in the news as an award recipient. The latest examples are his selection by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission for a plaque recognizing outstanding individual accomplishment in the long and successful effort to establish Horseshoe Lake State Park, and his selection as honored speaker at ceremonies June 28 at Camp Sunken Lake.

Also honored by the Southwestern Planning Commission was Henry R. Gabriel, partner in the architectural firm which planned and designed the ice skating rink-recreation center in Wilson Park. He later became president of the Granite City park district and helps set the policies for operation of the beautiful and popular rink-recreation center as well as other facets of the widely admired park district program.

A former Granite Cityman, M. D. Walston, president of the Civic Memorial Airport Authority at Bethalto, was cited for expanding the landing field there from 120 to over 1000 acres. Improvements include lighting, a terminal building, a control tower and new instrument landing facilities, with runways lengthened to accommodate jet airplanes currently used by business firms in this region.

All three are deserving of the commendations received, and the local public adds its congratulations to those voiced at the annual award meeting.

Name and address must accompany each letter but will not be revealed. If necessary, request communications of less than 250 words will be given preference. All are subject to condensation and grammatical changes. Those libelous or not in good taste will be rejected or edited.

showing beneath his robe, and it is too bad.

The girls who had long hair must have brushed and brushed, because their hair glistered with cleanliness.

The talent was excellent by the two stars, Mr. McCauley and especially by Mr. Metcalf. The singing conducted by Mr. Metcalf indicated careful planning and the band under Mr. Meek was, as always, very good.

The school board and administration have much to be proud of in this fine class with its very large number of scholarships. My sincere congratulations to all on Madison vs. Granite City, Flag Day 1970. Every spot on Madison avenue in Madison bore the flag on Flag Day, while Granite City displayed very few in the residential areas and pitifully few in the business area.

It is to be dispensed. It is because Madison is made up largely of the foreign born who earned their American citizenship the hard way, were not born into it, and therefore percepts appreciate it more.

It was not proud of Granite City this June 14. Fourth of July is next; it will be ignored also.

PARTIAL FINANCIAL DISCLOSURE PROPOSED

The Illinois Constitutional Convention has proposed a record as supporting a type of economic disclosure for candidates for state office and for state judges.

I use the word "type" because I am convinced that, although I testified and was supported, required that candidates—I didn't think this was necessary and state officers must file annually with the Secretary of State a report of the income of themselves and their immediate families.

Why The Student Unrest?

No problem is more perplexing to the average American citizen than the difficulties on some of our campuses. I will devote two columns to discussing the matter; this one, as to the cause, and the next as to what can be done about it.

Among the causes for the present difficulties are these: When there is violence abroad, there is a tendency for violence at home.

I first noted this as I was writing a paper for the Illinois State Historical Society. In studying riots during the first half of this century, it suddenly struck me that a high percentage of the riots occurred during two short spans of years, during World Wars I and II. Violence abroad encourages violence at home. My guess is that such a trend is accentuated in our day, when we can see violence in living color on our television sets. When the Vietnam war fades, we can expect violence at home to reduce also.

There is a deep-seated—and healthy—desire on the part of students to improve our society.

While it sometimes is expressed in extreme form, student unrest in correcting the ills which plague us in the long run is a major sign of hope for the nation.

The number of students has been growing astronomically, and with growing numbers come growing problems.

In the 1960's, for example, more students attended colleges and universities than in the previous entire history of the nation.

Some of the universities may have been growing too rapidly, some may have become too large.

Student resentment is generally much more intense at the large or rapidly growing schools. We must seriously examine the problem of size in our schools, just as we must in our cities.

As universities expanded rapidly, they found a teacher shortage (now no longer here). During this period of teacher shortage, some were put into faculty positions who were not equipped emotionally for such responsibilities.

Let me make clear that the huge majority of teachers are responsible citizens of whom we can be proud. But for all people, the rate of emotional growth is not the same, and we have had a few teachers on campus who simply have not reached adulthood emotionally.

An excessive stress on the desirability in our culture for a college education has forced some students on campuses who should not be college students.

We need doctors, lawyers, and teachers; but we also need plumbers, electricians and secretaries. Each of us has different aptitudes. To force someone into a mold which does not fit his aptitude is not doing him, nor our society, any service.

There have been a few—both on and off campus—who want to promote violence.

The numbers are small. Some deny their existence and others exaggerate their numbers. The reality is what must be dealt with and within the framework of our laws.

But we should not fool ourselves into believing that the whole difficulty on our campuses is caused by a small handful. When thousands of students turn out at protests, rallies when students vote to close a school by a decisive majority, then we have problems. Problems which must be dealt with honestly.

There is now considerable talk about a company offering $18,500 for 1.8 acres of land at the park and that this land is located next to the Madison senior high school on Farish street.

U. S. to Accept Detailed Report By Depot Group

Charles "Bill" Burns, new president of the executive board of the Save Our Depot Association, said today that a detailed report will be presented to top-level federal officials this week-end. It outlines the case for keeping the Granite City Army Depot open beyond the scheduled June 30, 1971, inactivation.

Prepared through extensive research this spring, the report says the Department of Defense originally may have been in take due notice of:

1. The strategic value of the Depot's location compared with other depots.
2. The value of the federal real estate investment here.
3. Its expansion capability.
4. Technical skills here that are not available elsewhere.
5. Tax expenditures resulting from inactivation.
6. An erroneous conclusion in its labor cost comparison with other commercial and industrial centers.
7. The efficiency of Depot personnel and Depot facilities when measured against other installations.
8. Individual and family hardships and the impact on the economy of this region.

Hoskin Completes Duties
The Association board, this week accepted the resignation of Col. Charles E. Hoskin III (retired), former Depot commander, as SODA executive vice-president. He asked to be relieved of the duties due to critical medical problems.

A resolution adopted by the board praised Col. Hoskin's effectiveness in gathering and analyzing a large amount of data considered pertinent in evaluating the inactivation plan and its ramifications.

The board renewed its dedication to "fullest possible governmental use of the Depot facilities now and in the coming years" and said there is reason to believe that the objective will be achieved.

It will ask the Washington officials, whose identity was not announced, to use the SODA report in seeking a thorough study by the General Accounting Office, Army Materiel Command, depot system and other commands which influence depot operations.

Burglars Hit 10 Homes in Area; Man Robbed of $200

Burglars broke into ten Quad-City area houses and apartments in a series of crimes reported since Monday. In Madison, a Granite City man was robbed on the head and robbed $200.

Burglars entered the home of Mrs. Judy Ellsworth, 2822 West 20th street, earlier this week, taking a $200 payroll check and a set of wedding rings, valued at $228, the owner informed police at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Entry was gained through a bedroom window on the west side of the house. The intruder ripped apart a dress belonging to Mrs. Ellsworth.

Sandy Cheatham, 1638A East 23rd street, reported Monday that burglars entered her apartment some time the previous night or early Monday, removing a stereo console valued at $100 and a portable television set worth $75.

Trailer Burglary
A television set valued at $200, a radio worth $25 and a pellet rifle valued at $25 were stolen from the trailer home of George Murphy, Rural Route One, Granite City, sheriff's deputies reported at 1:30 a.m. today. Murphy told officers he left home about 3 p.m. yesterday and discovered the break-in when he returned about 1 a.m. today.

Deputies said the rear door of the trailer was forced to gain entry.

A break-in at the home of Morris Helman, 2630 Cleveland blvd., occurring between 4:30 and 9 p.m. Monday, resulted in all rooms in the house being ransacked and the contents of dressers and desks strewn about the floor.

Entry into the dwelling was gained by forcing a window on the north side with a small pry bar. Details on items missing were not given.

Home Ransacked
Burglars kicked in the front door at the home of Murline

Foster, 500 Salvator street, and ransacked the home in an apparent search for money, according to Venice police. The break-in occurred between 3 and 4 p.m. when no one was at home, officers said. Police reported the intruders apparently were searching for money because other items of value in the house were not taken.

An electric mixer, valued at $25 was stolen from the apartment of Sharon Noble, 1739 Edison avenue, the owner told police at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday. Access was gained by breaking the glass in a basement window.

Burglars ransacked a bedroom, smashed various items and wrote curse words on the walls at the home of Harold Coleman, 101 West Madison Park drive, the householder told police at 8:45 p.m. Wednesday. Entry was gained by breaking a bedroom window.

Nothing was disturbed in a adjacent room, Coleman said.

Home Entered
Clarence Williams, 2005 West 20th street, reported at 2:50 a.m. today that burglars broke into his home last night, tearing down curtains and cutting and damaging carpeting. An initial search failed to disclose anything missing, he told police.

Robert Cooper, 751 Twenty-seventh place, reported Monday afternoon an attempted burglary at his home the previous week while the family was out of town. The intruders forced open the front door to gain entry, he said. Nothing appeared to be missing, he told police.

Mrs. Sandra Nichols, 2471 Center street, reported Monday night that intruders ransacked her home while the family was away on an airplane. Nothing was disturbed in a adjacent room, she said. There was no sign of forced entry.

The woman said her son may have left open a door when he returned to the house to pick up some books and return them to the church. She was unable to determine if anything had been taken.

MORE ABOUT Accidents

Way 162 was passing another car and collided with the east-bound car driven by William Gass Jr., 21, of 3024 Sunbury drive.

Gass, Yurek and John Morelan, 18, of 2021 National street, a passenger in Gass' car, were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where Yurek and Morelan were admitted after emergency treatment. Gass was given emergency treatment and transferred to Scott Air Force Base Hospital.

Gass suffered cuts to the face and scalp. Morelan was treated for a nose laceration and injuries to the left leg. Yurek suffered cuts to the face and chin and contusions and abrasions to the neck and chest.

Mrs. Lucille Mossa, 40, of 1335 Sixth street, Madison, and two of her children, were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital about 9:40 p.m. yesterday following an accident at the intersection of Routes 40 and 111.

Mrs. Mossa was treated for abrasions to the right hand. Daughter, Joyce, 15, was given spinal x-rays, and a son, Alphonse, 12, was treated for back pains. All were released following treatment.

Mrs. Mossa said a car stopped suddenly in front of her, and she was unable to stop in time to avoid a collision.

Madison police said Redman's car collided with one driven by Ivan B. Cowin, 312 Granville street, Venice. The Cowin car was knocked into a parked car owned by Nina B. Payne, 222 Granville street, Venice, damaging it in the left rear.

A passenger in the Robertson auto, Donna G. Robertson, of the Marshall avenue address, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for contusions to the left shoulder. She underwent x-rays and was released.

Amvets Post 51 met Wednesday evening at the post home with Leo Clements, commander, presenting a report on the state convention held last week-end at Mt. Vernon. While attending the convention, Clements was named as the Fifth Division commander. Donald Russell of Springfield was named the new state commander.

Clements also announced an installation ceremony for both the Amvets and Auxiliary of Post 51 will take place at 2 p.m. Sunday. Refreshments were served to the 15 members present.

Michael A. Turck, 30, of 2321 Edwards street, the cyclist, was admitted at St. Elizabeth Hospital with multiple abrasions to the face, right shoulder and arm, both elbows and hands and right leg.

A 14-year-old youth crossing Madison avenue near Granite City high school suffered minor injuries when struck by a motorist on Monday.

Isaac W. Childers, 4905 Maryville road, told police he was driving south in the 3000 block of Madison when three boys ran across the street in front of him. One started to return to the curb, but was struck by the right side of the Childers' auto. He was taken home by patrol car from the accident scene.

A two-car collision at Faith and Myrtle avenues Monday involved vehicles operated by Alford Robertson, 2816 Marshall avenue, and Floyd Pitchford, 2908 National avenue.

A passenger in the Robertson auto, Donna G. Robertson, of the Marshall avenue address, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for contusions to the left shoulder. She underwent x-rays and was released.

MORE ABOUT Schools May

and a buffet strip about 200 feet deep.

Chester McManaway, president of the Madison school board, told the Press-Record yesterday that the school board is interested in the land as a "protective measure" to avert the possible future construction of an unsightly or undesirable industry in close proximity to the high school property.

McManaway said he was unaware that the property just north of the school was that sought by Swift & Co.

For Future Use
"Our only interest is to protect the school property," McManaway said. "We have discussed the possibility of buying part of the land, close to the school and holding it for future use, possibly for construction of a new junior high school."

Council members agreed to meet again on the night of July 1 with representatives of Leo Daily & Associates, St. Louis planning engineers, who are nearing completion of a joint Madison-Venice Neighborhood Development housing program in which substandard dwellings would be replaced with new houses.

Kozielek pointed out that he had been scheduled to meet last week with representatives of the planning firm and with representatives of the Southwest Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission, but the meeting was cancelled.

After the meeting with Daily & Associates representatives next Wednesday, another meeting will be held July 15 attended by SIMAPC representatives, council members, representatives of the planning firm, the city zoning commission and the city planning commission.

Razing Work Progresses
Fifth Ward Alderman John Haynes remarked that the city's program substandard dwellings was progressing as rapidly as possible.

"This council is doing its best to get these (disapidated) homes down as fast as it can and as cheaply as it can," Haynes said. "Some people think we should move faster but we can't do it all at once."

Under the housing program, in which both Madison and Venice expect to receive federal assistance, the two communities plan to build new houses to replace these torn down.

The new homes will be offered for sale. Residents whose homes have been razed in the renewal program will be given the first opportunity to buy newly constructed houses.

Second Ward Alderman Richard Kismar pointed out that the city of Venice has been razing dilapidated residences by using street department workers and equipment. He said he had talked with the Madison superintendent of streets and was told Madison does not have the equipment to do this type of work.

Operation Clean Lake Scheduled for July 18

Owners of small boats in this area are being urged to participate in the third annual Operation Clean Lake, it was announced today.

The project, scheduled for Saturday, July 18, is expected to result in a clean sweep of all debris along the shores and islands of Alton Lake, from the Alton Dam 20 miles upstream.

Need Equipment
"The Army Depot is to have a sale of equipment and I think we should look into the possibility of acquiring what we need," Kismar told the council.

"This is the ideal way of getting these houses torn down. I understand Vassilef (Nick Vassilef, city attorney) has information on about 15 houses that are ready to be razed."

On a motion by Haynes, the council granted a request for a parade permit to Zemry

Riley, who said in his application the parade will be in behalf of the candidacy of John Moore for election as mayor of Madison. The parade is planned Saturday at 5 p.m. It will originate at Jackson and Weaver streets and proceed through Madison and part of Venice.

A letter commending the Madison police department for its handling of disturbances June 14 in the vicinity of the Phelps-Dodge plant was read and filed.

The council also accepted and filed a letter from the Granite City police department commending Madison police for their assistance in the capture of a suspect in a robbery case.

Patrolman Commended
Also presented and placed on file was a letter from Charles Taylor, director of the Police Training Institute of the University of Illinois, announcing presentation of the Ervin H. Warren Award to Madison Patrolman Paul Bargiel for placing at the top of his police training class.

The letter said the "fine attitude and ability" displayed by Bargiel during police training "best exemplifies today's concept of tomorrow's police officer."

A letter from the office of the U. S. Secretary of Defense, noting that the decision to close the Granite City Army Depot was based on "careful analysis" and "is not subject to reconsideration," also was read to the council.

The letter was similar to that already received by Granite City and Venice in the move to obtain a public hearing on the closure order.

Kozielek commented that "this doesn't sound encouraging." He said he had talked about the matter with Col. Charles E. Hoskin III, executive director of the Save Our Depot Association, and efforts to negotiate the shutdown still are under way.

Governor's Plan For Gas Tax Rate Dropped

Gov. Ogilvie's plan to aid the Chicago Transit Authority through a half-cent increase in the state gasoline tax was abandoned in the Illinois Senate yesterday.

The Republican leadership proposed instead to replace the governor's program with a plan to borrow $24 million from state highway funds. The state would need the $24 million to aid public transit systems through subsidies, but the aid program was devised primarily to help the Chicago Transit Authority.

The money borrowed from the highway fund would have to be paid back from the general revenue fund by Dec. 31, 1971.

Gov. Russell Arrington of Evanston, GOP Senate leader, presented the proposal following a five-hour Republican caucus. Arrington said he could obtain only 15 Republican votes from the 38 GOP Senate members and would need at least 15 of the 19 Democratic votes to obtain passage of the governor's gas tax plan.

YOUTH FOCUS

"SERRA LEIGH," a St. Louis musical group that will play at next Monday night's Teen Town dance at the YMCA.

'Outside Experts' Evaluate SIU-SW's Art Department

"It takes courage to have three outside teachers evaluate your department and judge your students," says Edward Reap of Chouinard Art Institute in Los Angeles, "but courage and concern are what make SIU-SW campus's art department unique."

Reap is one of three artists who spent the past week evaluating SIU-SW's art department and judging student work for the annual Best-of-the-Year show which is on exhibit through July 12 in the lobby of the Communications Building.

The other artists were Prof. John McIvor of the State University of New York at Buffalo and Bruce Tippet, an English artist now living in New York City.

"Only one kind of teaching is of any real consequence," Reap maintains, "a one-on-one relationship. Students at the campus have that relationship and are taking advantage of it. At SIU I find a flow and easy access of teachers and students," Prof. McIvor said. "This quality is unique. There is a total environment."

"In interviews with the students, we found they have modest ideas about what they would change, because they know they have a good thing," McIvor said. "For example, they would like use of the physics department's laser beam so they can see what can be done with it from an artistic standpoint."

"Your students don't want fancy quarters," McIvor continued. They want all the technologies of science, but they want to humanize science and the computer."

No ROTC Arsenal At Carbondale

A rumored Air Force ROTC "arsenal" at SIU-Carbondale campus in reality consists of four wooden rifles used occasionally by honor guards in parades or civic activities, it was disclosed this week by Col. Edward C. Murphy, AFROTC commander at SIU.

"During the recent crisis here," Col. Murphy said, "We were amazed at the wild rumors and the extent of misinformation circulating about the AFROTC program. There are no weapons or firearms in Wheeler Hall, where ROTC is housed, or elsewhere on the campus belonging to ROTC."

Regarding the justification of the program he said: "Until realistic world disarmament agreements are worked out, this country will maintain substantial armed forces requiring effective and knowledgeable leadership. Where should the leaders come from?"

About 4500 Air Force officers are commissioned annually from AFROTC, he said, adding that there is an advantage of having a big part of military leadership from universities located all over the country.

ROTC is not mandatory at SIU. The cadet contingent was composed of 48 freshmen, 36 sophomores, 26 juniors and 31 seniors during the spring quarter, freshmen and sophomore cadets do not have active duty service commitments when they sign up and can drop the course at any time. Juniors and seniors, however, have active duty commitments, and receive $50 a month.

Murphy also said ROTC has a college scholarship program which provides full college tuition and incidental fees, textbook allowance and $50 a month tax free. Applicants must meet certain requirements and agree to accept a commission and meet an active duty service commitment. Ten cadets now have scholarships.

He also noted that starting this fall, cadet participation will be permitted in the ROTC program by women who seek to receive a commission in the Air Force.

Dedication Set For Sunday at New Hope Baptist

Dedication and homecoming services for the New Hope Baptist Church located on the Great River Road and Route 3, west of Mitchell, will be conducted this Sunday at 2 p.m.

Harold Cameron of Carbondale and Rev. Elmer McElroy from Girard, Ill., a former pastor, will be the principal speakers. A special musical program will be directed by Tom Allen.

The church was originally organized about nine years ago as a mission of the West 22nd Street Baptist Church by Rev. and Mrs. Elmer McElroy. A formal charter was issued the congregation in 1962 and the church was moved six years ago into a frame Army barracks type building on Thorngate road.

There now are 60 members who secured funds to construct the new church building.

A noon fellowship dinner also is planned.

Lost Bids Plaguing GC Council Members -- 'Remedy' is Recommended

Displaced bids became an issue during Monday night's Granite City council meeting, when a suggestion was made by Alderman Roy Poulos that "perhaps the city should hire a policeman to check on where those bids are going."

No one was able to say Monday night what had happened to bids for air conditioners for the city hall court room offices.

Alderman Whitmer, chairman of the City Hall committee, recalled that several months ago the bids were referred to the Finance committee, and Mayor Partney added the committee was to have conferred with the circuit court clerk on county purchase of the conditioners.

Alderman Moenien, former Finance committee chairman, said he did not have the bids, and neither did Alderman Robertson, the present chairman. Others asked by Whitmer were Mayor Partney, City Clerk Stevens and City Treasurer Rich.

The bids were not located. Mayor Partney suggested the city might seek bids for duct work from the large air conditioning unit that serves the court room. "It would be a lot cheaper just to pipe air to the offices from it," he added.

A bid call was authorized. Earlier this month the council could not find bids for new police cars that were accepted in February and referred to the Finance committee. A new bid call was authorized.

Parking Meter Problems
Whitmer asked the Finance committee if steps had been taken to determine if new parking meters are needed in the business district. "I asked for a recommendation six weeks ago," he added.

Robertson replied the committee had not yet reached a decision.

Whitmer replied that he would gather the data as chairman of the Traffic committee and would present it to the council. He pointed out that new automatic, tamperproof meters are proposed, if cost of maintaining the present meters runs too high. Many of the meters have been vandalized in recent weeks, and thieves with keys have been looting the coin boxes.

Weed Cutting Stalled
Assistant City Inspector David McFarland was instructed by the council to meet with Jerry Ragusa of Granite City Landscaping Co. in an effort to speed up the annual weed cutting program. The $3 per lot contract was awarded to Ragusa last week.

McFarland said the weed cutting was started in the old cemetery in East Granite last week and obstructions caused at least two breakdowns of equipment. He added that rains then stalled the program.

In miscellaneous action, the council adopted an amendment to the municipal code requiring any excavations in sidewalks and driveways to be cut away to the nearest joint so there will be no "strip" patching, such as often done by utilities. Alderman Whitmer called for the ordinance change, pointing out that "strip" patches often collapse.

Nonn called for an ordinance that he had requested several weeks ago similar to a levee district ordinance calling for special approval for drainage purposes before any home or building is constructed in the city.

"We need the law to prevent in the future the drainage problems we now have in the Seventh Ward," Nonn stated.

Lawyer's Suggestion
Assistant City Atty. Harry Hartman, who was substituting for City Atty. Scroggins, said he had prepared the law for the levee district and that the city does not have the same control power as the levee district. He advised the council to include such provisions in its subdivision control ordinance.

Several other "missing ordinances" were called for. Nonn said one was due to dedicate the 2100 block of Iowa street to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Green said he was awaiting a "no dumping" ordinance that would prohibit all dumping within the city limits. "One was submitted by Scroggins, but it needs some changes. We've got to get this ordinance to halt the dumping near the tracks north of 22nd street. Dumping is still going on, and it threatens to block natural drainage for the North Granite area," Green remarked.

Seventh Ward aldermen will try to trace down a drainage easement in the 3200 block of Lydia lane. Dawes pointed out the lots in the area had been split with homes built on two halves, and that a drainage line was broken when a householder built a garage. To remedy the situation, two right-angle turns were made in the line which serves a two-block area. "If the easement is located, the city plans to bill the developer for the $3000 cost to correct the situation, "it's impossible to keep the line clean," Dawes said.

Alderman Boyd called for a report on progress of purchasing a used road grader at the Army Depot. Mayor Partney said he was told the depot had none in operating condition but would try to locate a suitable grader for the city.

Nonn urged quick action, pointing out the present grader is virtually out of service. "We haven't graded one alley or side street yet, and we need to get started," he added.

Alderman Parmley requested an ordinance be prepared for placing a stop sign on Zippel avenue at Willow drive, and referred to the Street committee was a request by Illinois Power Co. for three excavations in the alley east of Nameoki road from Wilson avenue to the Gem store to install a cable. Referred to Seventh Ward aldermen was a Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. request to excavate in the easement east of Johnson road to cross Clark and Franklin avenues and Ponton road to install a cable.

Painting Contract
A contract was awarded to the Clark Painting Co., St. Louis, to paint large tanks at the sewage treatment plant at a cost of $18,900. Another firm bid $19,400.

Referred to the Sanitation committee were bids received for a new truck for the humane officer.

Alderman Dawes, chairman of the Fire and Water committee, called a meeting of the committee for Monday to inspect equipment at the main fire station.

Tax Reform Bill Aids Working Students

Students who are working this summer and earn less than $1700 will not have to file a federal income tax form, will not be liable for federal income taxes and may not have any tax withheld.

R. Neal Fulk, president of the Illinois Society of CPAs, points out that the Tax Reform Act of 1969 exempts the first $1700 of individual income. A student's income will not cause his father to lose him as an income tax exemption nor push the father into a higher bracket since the student's income is not taxable.

Area YMCAs Join 'Cluster' to Provide Better Service

A favorable report on the past year's progress in the local YMCAs' participation in Greater Metropolitan St. Louis Cluster of YMCAs, was given Tuesday by Irvin C. Slate Jr., local YMCA board chairman.

Slate pointed out that the "cluster" is not a merger of independent YMCAs but represents cooperation between YMCAs with the goal of improving the services to people.

The original cluster concept included five YMCAs in Illinois and the YMCAs of St. Louis and St. Louis county. Slate said the cooperative venture now has grown to include the Illinois YMCAs of Alton, Belleville, East St. Louis, Edwardsville, Jackson, county, Jacksonville, Mount Vernon, Quincy and Tri-City, and the Missouri YMCAs of St. Louis, Hannibal and University of Missouri at Columbia.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

Resources, Manpower.
Through this venture the St. Louis YMCA, largest unit in the cluster, makes its resources and manpower available to provide services to other cluster units. The individual YMCAs decide through consultation and planning what services they need and how they can best utilize the resources of the cluster. Helpful services may come from St. Louis or from other nearby Y's with similar problems.

Under the old system a local YMCA would have turned to the regional staffs of the YMCA, headquartered in Chicago or Topeka, Kansas.

Under the present system, St. Louis provides the manpower formerly furnished by the regional staff.

Slate said that there is agreement to the cluster concept at the regional and national levels of the YMCA. Realizing that St. Louis has the capability and potential to render general support services to smaller YMCAs, Region I, in Chicago, and the West Central Area office in Topeka, have given both consent and financial support to the project. Regional staffs are available to the cluster or individual units as consultants.

Slate outlined some of the many areas in which this cooperation may prove helpful to the Tri-City Area YMCA and others in the cluster.

These areas include: management and administration; manpower development through personnel services and training; development of program services; financial development; fiscal management; such as budget control, purchasing and insurance; long-range planning; intra-agency and inter-agency relationships; public relations and promotion; and membership efforts.

The cluster coordinator is Ted W. Hawkins, metropolitan associate executive director and director, division of operations, for the St. Louis YMCA. Slate said that Hawkins and members of his staff had already visited Granite City at least once to become acquainted with the local operation and begin mutual planning for improving and strengthening services.

Slate said that the staff and lay leaders of the Tri-City Area YMCA totally agree that YMCAs inter-association planning, communication and action programs will increase the impact and contributions of the YMCAs in the greater metropolitan area, as well as strengthen the performance of individual units in their communities.

Car Wash Permit Sought by Ross

A zoning change petition before the Granite City council Monday evening has been reviewed by Henry Ross, who is seeking a special use permit for a car wash on two lots at the southeast corner of Nameo and Pontoon roads.

Ross said Tuesday the area already is zoned C-2 commercial, and he has sent a letter to the city requesting the special use permit. The original petition was referred to the City Planning Commission by the city council.

Council members voted Monday night to override the Planning Commission's rejection of a request by Bane Presley for a special use permit to operate an antique and art shop in an R-1 residence at 1625 Pontoon road.

The Plan Commission's action had been referred to the Seventh Ward aldermen last week, and they reported Monday night they had found no objections to the proposed shop.

Submitted to the council by Alderman Boker were petitions with 234 signatures objecting to the proposed location of a Salvation Army building on a vacant lot 3521 Johnson road on the basis the structure would not conform with existing zoning regulations. The petitions are to be referred to the council's Planning and Zoning committee.

Police said the Barker youth would give them no further information concerning the incident.

Live below your means.

If you'd like to get around the high cost of living, we have a suggestion.
Cut down on the high cost of getting around.
And buy a Volkswagen. It's only $1839.
That's around $1200 less than the average amount paid for a new car today. Receive it in the bank. More's coming!
A VW saves you hundreds of dollars on upkeep over the years.
It takes pints, not quarts, of oil.
Not one iota of antifreeze.
And it gets about 26 miles to the gallon. The average car (thirsty devil that it is) only gets 14.
So the more you drive, the more you save.
And chances are, you'll drive it for years and years. (Since we never change the style, a VW never goes out of style.)
Of course, a VW's not much to look at. So a lot of people buy a big flashy car just to save face. Try putting that in the bank.

Demos Endorse Goldenhersh in High Court Race

The Madison County Democratic Central committee, meeting in convention at Edwardsville Monday night, unanimously endorsed Joseph H. Goldenhersh of East St. Louis as the Democratic nominee for justice of the Illinois Supreme Court in the November general election.

More than 100 committeemen attended the convention session in the courthouse at Edwardsville where they also chose 96 delegates to represent Madison county at the Fifth Judicial District convention. Final choice of the Democratic candidate will be made at the district convention.

Goldenhersh now is a judge of the Fifth District Appellate Court. His term expires in 1972. Walter T. "Buck" Simmons, county Democratic committee chairman who presided over the county meeting Monday night, said that if Goldenhersh is nominated and elected, creating a vacancy in the three-judge appellate court, the Supreme Court would fill the vacancy by appointing a judge to serve until the next election.

The Fifth District Democratic judicial convention will be held July 10, beginning at 1 p.m. at Augustine's Restaurant in Belleville. Delegates of the 37 counties within the district will attend to select the Democratic Supreme Court candidate.

The county committee adopted the unit rule in Monday night's meeting and delegates from Madison county will cast their votes in a bloc for Goldenhersh.

The Republican County Committee endorsed Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark as its nominee for the judgeship during a meeting last Thursday in Edwardsville.

Republicans will meet in the district judicial convention at Mount Vernon, Ill., on July 11. Several GOP candidates are expected to enter the race for the nomination.

Miss Granite City Contest Sunday to Feature Eight Talented Girls

Talented Dottie DeWitt, the reigning Miss Granite City, will preside over crowning of the new Miss Granite City at the close of the local Miss America preliminary contest about 10 p.m. Sunday, Bob Fry, general chairman of the Jaycee-sponsored beauty-talent pageant said today.

The annual quest for the most attractive, poised and talented young woman to represent the local community in the Miss Illinois contest will begin at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the auditorium of Granite City high school.

The pageant is open to the public and tickets costing $1.25 for adults may be obtained in advance from Jaycee members, the contestants or at the door the evening of the show. Two children under 12 years may attend on a single adult ticket.

Conforming to the 1970 pageant theme—"A Star is Born"—the auditorium stage will be arranged Sunday in a two-dimensional fashion. Earl Parsons, stage coordinator and master-of-ceremonies said today.

One portion of the stage will be decorated with Grecian columns and backdrops in pastel shades, producing a ballroom effect. Another stage area will be outfitted as a rehearsal room, where candidates will assume the role of practicing for their "big moment" when introduced to the audience, Parsons explained.

Police Chief Veizer Given New 30-Day Appointment

New 30-day appointments for Police Chief Ronald Veizer and Assistant City Attorney Harry Hartman, along with Mrs. Margie Hall, civilian dispatcher in the police department, were announced to the Granite City council Monday night by Mayor Partney.

Veizer Resigns GC Police Board; Decatur Named

George Veizer, father of Granite City Police Chief Ronald Veizer, resigned from the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners effective June 22, and Warren Decatur, local electrical engineer, was appointed Monday night by Mayor Partney to complete the term which runs to April 30, 1973.

George Veizer's resignation followed a circuit court reversal of a Granite City Board of Fire and Police Commissioners ruling on dismissal of Patrolman Louis Mank on charges filed by Police Chief Veizer.

The circuit court, during a hearing last week, noted the charges against the police chief, was a member of the police board during the Mank hearing that started last December and ended Feb. 9. Circuit Judge Foss Meyer in reversing the police board ruling, ordered Mank reinstated on the police force with full pay retroactive to the time of his dismissal.

Appeal is Rejected
Prior to accepting George Veizer's resignation Monday night, council members rejected a request from Ralph Elliott, chairman of the police and fire board, for the circuit court reversal to be repealed.

Elliott stated, "The charges that we found him guilty of were of such a serious nature that the board ruled that his continued employment would be detrimental to the efficiency and discipline of the Granite City police department. . . . We feel his ruling is in error for the following reasons:

"He (the judge) dismissed three charges in that not written served the library for 15 years. She is to be presented with a certificate of appreciation.

Renamed to the library board were Miss Lucille Macleod and Lawrence Mankel, with term running to June 30, 1973.

Charges were made concerning the incidents at the time they occurred. The board could not act at the time of the incidents.

"He dismissed one charge because he felt it was not serious enough. Under the law, he cannot substitute his opinion for that of the board on what is cause for dismissal.

"He reversed the ruling of the board on the remaining two charges because of the composition of the board. He stated the charges were valid and the evidence did support our actions, but because one of the board was related to the person filing the charges, Patrolman Louis Mank did not get a fair and impartial hearing.

"Therefore, we got the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners to ask the city council to concur in our request to appeal as commissioners, the ruling of Judge Foss Meyer in this case."

A motion to concur in the appeal request was made by Alderman Poulos and seconded by Rutledge.

Boyd pointed out the back pay, appeal could not be granted. Poulos refused to vote.

In a quick roll call vote, Poulos declined to vote. Voting for the appeal were Rutledge, Whitmer, Dawes and Boker.

Opposed were Nann, Basarich, Boyd, Dallas, Moerlein, Parnley, Robertson, Green and Nann. Alderman Jarrett was at work, and Alderman Schuler was on vacation.

Rutledge commented, "I hate to see the vote go this way. If it is permitted, then we are telling the police department to go about doing anything it wants to. Clarification by a higher court is needed to show there's something wrong with the courts in the county."

"We have 30 days from June 17. We should at least state our intent to appeal," Rutledge added.

Alderman Boker stated the council concurred in the appointment of the commissioners and should back them and the police chief.

Nann again commented the matter should not involve the council, and Moerlein said the council should seek further legal advice in the matter.

Whitmer, a former police committee chairman, answered Nann. "This is a city problem. It involves the city police chief and the commissioners."

Entering the discussion, Mayor Partney said the court's ruling was based on the father and son angle. "We know George

Wheat Harvest Starts; Home Grown Sweet Corn Available

By Warren W. Bundy
County Extension Adviser
Farmers started wheat harvest last week. The peak harvest period will be late this week with weather permitting. Sweet corn grown by local vegetable growers is available now. Growers aim for sweet corn by the fourth of July and beat that date this year. No late Spring frosts occurred to delay sweet corn growth. Some growers have sweet corn for sale now at their roadside stands.

The most serious disease of alfalfa—bacterial wilt—is present in a few alfalfa fields in Madison county. Years ago this disease caused a widespread damage, but most farmers now plant varieties of alfalfa resistant to the disease.

Bacterial wilt has caused many plants in infected fields to die. One way it is spread through a field is by the cutting blade of the mower. That accounts for the stripes of dead plants that appear in some fields.

Fields infected by the disease likely will not have a stand worth leaving after this winter. No effective treatment for infected fields is known.

Veizer and the court didn't. We know him to be fair, and I know he would have ruled against his son if he thought there was anything wrong."

The mayor added that he had called for an impartial investigation of the matter after receiving a letter "from Mank against the chief," and that the matter, after the investigation by the assistant chief, was turned over to the commissioners.

Alderman Green remarked that "no man should be given the hatchet without a warning," adding that if the parliamentarian was doing something wrong, he should have been warned.

Parnley said he had ridden with police on night patrol for a year and found that only crack men had been called upon for the night shift. Mank was one of those on the picket crew, "and was considered a top officer. This has been a miscarriage of justice, and I'm for his being reinstated."

In the roll call vote on the intent to appeal motion, the ruling was identical to the initial vote rejecting the appeal.

Third annual meeting of the National Association of Legal Investigators will take place next week in Minneapolis, Minn. The newly-organized group now has a membership of about 150 investigators with seven in this state area.

Charles W. Chapman, local lawyer, will be one of the featured speakers. His topic will be on the federal employer's liability act.

The organization conducts two seminars a year and is in the process of forming a network of investigators throughout the country who perform work for lawyers only.

Local area investigators who will attend this year's meeting are Harry Nivelt of Granite City, Jerald Bonfield and Anthony Golec of Belleville and Robert O'Connor of St. Louis.

They attended a luncheon at the Rose Bowl given by Theodore Standford, court recorder, for a discussion of plans prior to attending the annual meeting.

Nameoki Approves Fund for Sewer Study

Nameoki electors attending a special town meeting approved without a dissenting vote Monday night an appropriation amendment providing $8000 as the township's share of a $82,000 engineering study fund to determine the feasibility of an integrated sanitary sewer system for the four townships of the Quad-City area.

A resolution for amending the tax levy in a like amount was withdrawn, however, as town officials said enough funds would be available to meet the appropriation if the money is spent.

The total study fund is to be made up of equal shares of $8000 from Nameoki, Granite City, Venice, and Chouteau townships under a proposed sewer program that would be sponsored by the county and built with federal financial assistance.

Approval of a motion to amend the township's 1970-71 appropriation to include $8000 as Nameoki township's share of the fund needed for the feasibility study came after considerable discussion in which electors sought an explanation as to what part the township would play in the sewer construction under proposed county sponsorship of the plan.

Mike Ropac, elected as moderator of the special town meeting, asked particularly if a bond issue to finance any proposed integrated sewer system in the four Quad-City townships would be approved by referendum.

Vote Not Needed

William Schooley, township attorney replied that the county board of supervisors could order a referendum if it wanted, but that it also may arbitrarily issue revenue bonds without a referendum.

Both Schooley and Harry Briggs, Nameoki supervisor, pointed out that if the feasibility study proves the value of a sewer project, and one is undertaken, the entire project would be handled by the county board.

"That means the townships would have nothing to say about the program," Ropac remarked. Briggs said that would be the case since provisions for federal funding in large-scale projects such as the sewer projects provides for sponsorship by the county and places all responsibility with the county board.

Louis Whitsell, town clerk, pointed out that the approval of an appropriation amendment as proposed in Monday night's meeting "merely provides the right to spend up to $8000 for planning and nothing more."

He pointed out that in the event the other townships—Granite City, Venice and Chouteau—did not go along with the idea, there would be no expenditures at all.

Approved by Board

"All bills for engineering to be paid out of the study fund would have to be approved by the town board," Whitsell explained.

On a show-of-hands vote, a resolution to amend the appropriation was approved by 16 persons. There were no dissenting votes.

Whitsell then presented a resolution that would amend the 1970-71 tax levy to provide an additional $8000 tax extension. Briggs moved for its adoption.

Whitsell, however, pointed out that he did not believe an additional tax levy was necessary.

"We anticipate a $33,000 balance in the town fund during the current fiscal year," he said, "and for that reason there will be sufficient money to meet the appropriation without a tax levy."

Briggs said that if this were the case, he would withdraw his motion. No action was taken on the tax levy resolution.

Strackeljah Objects

A brief disagreement between Ropac and Robert Strackeljah, a former member of the town board, marked the discussion on the resolution to amend the appropriation after Strackeljah gave his second to the motion by Briggs that the resolution be adopted.

Ropac asked Strackeljah if he had "signed the paper" declaring he is a registered voter when he entered the building to attend the meeting.

Strackeljah replied that he had not.

The present town board which took over in April 1969 has insisted at major town meetings that only registered voters be allowed to vote on town issues, and that persons attending such meetings sign-in prior to the meeting, attesting that they are registered.

Strackeljah said he is a registered voter, adding, "I don't think I should have to sign a paper to attend a meeting or vote."

May Need Record

Ropac pointed out that on important issues involving appropriations or tax levies, a question of legality could arise "and it is best to have a record of those acting on motions."

Strackeljah said he believed the "signing up" was "for political purposes."

"How can it be political?" Ropac asked.

"After the annual town meeting everybody that was there got a nice 'thank you' letter for attending, and I think that is political," Strackeljah said.

Whitsell spoke up: "I did that. I sent out those letters, and I think it was proper we show our appreciation for the people's interest."

"I still don't think I have to sign a paper to go to a town board meeting," Strackeljah responded.

At this point, a member of the audience was recognized by Ropac to second Briggs' motion for adoption of the resolution.

Ropac accepted the second and called for a vote.

Council Opposes MFT Boost and Water Co. Pleas

Granite City council members voted Monday night to oppose the half-cent boost in motor fuel tax proposed by Gov. Ogilvie to raise $24,000,000 for aiding mass transit systems in the state, with matching funds are provided by taxing agencies in service areas.

The council was advised the Illinois Municipal League was not accepting nor rejecting the governor's proposal, but would leave the matter up to municipalities in areas involved.

The Quad-City area is served by the Bi-State Transit System, and while the governor's proposal is geared mainly for the benefit of the Chicago Transit Authority, Bi-State also would be entitled to a share.

The state legislature and the governor are to be advised of the city's stand.

Objection also was raised to an amended application for rehearing in the water rate increase case of East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. The initial application was presented to the council last week for an added $92,400 in the rate schedule, which the water company claimed was not covered by the Illinois Commerce Commission order.

The water company was seeking a 47% rate boost and was granted a 21% increase.

In the amended application, the water company set forth a 13-point objection, claiming the ICC erred in disallowing $76,000 of the $300,000 rate increase case expense, and calling for amortizing $224,000 of the cost over five years instead of three.

The amended application also states a 6.5% return allowed by ICC "is lower than the composite cost of money to the company," and the company's need to raise $8,500,000 next year for a construction program, as well as disallowing operating revenue deductions applicable to the cost of installation, maintenance and operation of plant additions which the company had committed itself to.
